A Message from Bevo

"Art does not begin with a canvas. It begins with a thought."

Every few hundred years, there comes a revolution. We are living through the digital age and a new revolution is here — artificial intelligence. Truly, we are witnessing the unlocking of creative minds all around the world. Democratizing art for all those who can dream it. This is why we created BEVO Token originally, to bring artists together and showcase human talent to the world. Yet now we have a new paintbrush, a new way to explore and dream. Bevo 2.0 is born out of the passion the community showed for BEVO token in 2021. It all started with a message from BEVO.

This is my new message.

The last few years I've reflected on how we can still build a community of creative minds, around a singular purpose — to lead the digital art revolution. To create a space to showcase digital art work from around the world in a way that is rewarding for every one. It will begin with my original pieces, a collection of digital art born out of my own works. But now brought to life with AI.

That same paintbrush is now in everyone's hands. Endless AI artwork is crowding every channel, and in that noise it is hard for real art to be discovered. That is where BEVO comes in — an art platform that curates art based on the people who create and consume it.

The original BEVO Token launched in 2021 with a singular ambition: to become the de facto art token on the Binance Smart Chain. It sold out a 500 BNB presale on DxSale and proved that a community trusted in art as a store of value.

BEVO v2 is a revival and a reinvention.

BEVO is the ultimate creative outlet for us. Music, poems, digital art, books and stories — everything is AI powered, and all of it is anchored to a single token on the Binance Smart Chain.

But BEVO was never meant to stop with me. In 2021, artists from all over sent us their work, and that door opens again. I want to give people a say in the music they want to listen to. Anyone can submit songs, which will be featured on BEVO, put on display, and eventually added to an album. Anyone can submit digital art they've created, to be featured on BEVO, where we promote them and make them famous. Eventually, there will be BEVO Artists. And BEVO holders will help decide who is featured next.

"BEVO Token is ushering the revolution of Digital Art, every few hundred years history is made."

What is Your Art?

This is Your Art. BEVO.

The V1 Record — Accountability & The Path Forward

BEVO NFT ART Token launched in April 2021 and achieved something rare: a complete 500 BNB presale sellout on DxSale. The community showed up. The belief was real.

On January 30, 2023, that belief was tested.

The V1 smart contract was exploited via a flash loan attack on PancakeSwap. The attacker borrowed 192.5 WBNB, exploited a vulnerability in the deflationary token's deliver function — which manipulated the internal reflection balance — and exited with approximately $45,000 in profit. The price of $BEVO collapsed by 99%.

`V1 Contract: 0xc6cb12df4520b7bf83f64c79c585b8462e18b6aa`

The exploit was not a reflection of intent. It was a structural vulnerability native to reflective, fee-on-transfer token architecture — a design pattern widely used at the time, and widely weaponized since. The deliver function decreased _rTotal, distorting the balance calculation and allowing the attacker to extract value from the liquidity pool with effectively zero token cost.

We do not minimize what happened. Original holders lost value through no fault of their own. That community trusted the project at its earliest stage, and that trust deserves a direct response.

The Holder Airdrop

All verified BEVO V1 holders are eligible for a claim in V2 under the following terms:

2 V1 BEVO tokens = 1 V2 BEVO token

This ratio is deliberate. It honors original holders while preventing the supply inflation that a proportionally inverse ratio would introduce. The 2-for-1 structure means the airdrop itself is deflationary — reducing effective circulating supply from day one.

Claim verification will use a snapshot of V1 holder wallets at the time of the exploit. Full claim mechanics and timeline will be announced at the V2 launch. No action is required before then.

Why V2 Cannot Be Exploited the Same Way

BEVO V2 eliminates the V1 vulnerability at the architectural level:

- Zero transfer tax — no fee-on-transfer mechanics exist in the contract
- No reflection or deliver function — the attack surface does not exist
- Built on OpenZeppelin v5.0.0 (ERC20 + ERC20Burnable + Ownable) — audited, battle-tested primitives only
- PancakeSwap V3 native — incompatible with the very token design that was exploited

The architecture that made V1 exploitable is not present in V2. This is not a patch. It is a rebuild.

03

What is BEVO Token V2

BEVO V2 is a fixed-supply, zero-tax BEP-20 token deployed on Binance Smart Chain and traded on PancakeSwap V3. It is the native currency of a creative universe — the economic layer beneath original poetry, music, visual art, and long-form prose.

There are no transaction taxes. There are no automatic redistribution mechanics. There is no inflation. What exists is a hard cap of 5,000,000,000 BEVO tokens, a committed burn schedule, and a treasury that actively manages liquidity and holder rewards at the protocol level rather than the contract level.

"Clean by design. Deflationary by discipline."

The Creative Universe

BEVO begins with one artist, and opens its stage to the world.

The creative output backing BEVO is original and expanding:

Visual Art

AI-generated imagery derived directly from original poems and prose. Every image has a literary root — a verse, a line, a concept that existed before the visual.

Music

Original compositions available on Spotify and Apple Music. The discography is live, growing, and permanently attached to the BEVO creative record.

Poetry & Prose

Original poems, short stories, and long-form works form the source material from which visual and musical output is derived. The writing is the root system.

NFT Collection

Original works minted as NFTs on BSC. NFT sale revenue flows directly into the V2 treasury, deepening liquidity positions and funding holder airdrops.

The Open Stage

Anyone can submit songs and digital art they've created. Featured works are put on display and promoted on BEVO, and can eventually be added to a BEVO album. BEVO holders help decide who is featured next. Over time, the Open Stage becomes BEVO Artists.

05

Tokenomics

Total supply is fixed at 5,000,000,000 BEVO. There is no minting function. Supply can only decrease.

Token Distribution

ALLOCATION	TOKENS	%	PURPOSE
Launch Burn	1,000,000,000	20%	Immediate deflationary signal
Public Presale	1,500,000,000	30%	Community distribution
Liquidity Pool	1,000,000,000	20%	PancakeSwap V3 initial LP
Treasury	750,000,000	15%	Burns, airdrops, LP deepening
V1 Holder Airdrop	500,000,000	10%	2:1 claim for V1 holders
Development	250,000,000	5%	Ongoing creative & tech work
TOTAL	5,000,000,000	100%

Deflationary Mechanics

— Manual Burns: Periodic burns from the treasury reduce circulating supply on a published schedule.

— Holder Airdrops: Treasury funds periodic BEVO distributions to long-term holders.

— LP Deepening: NFT sale revenue is routed to deepen V3 liquidity positions.

— V1 Airdrop Burn: The 2-for-1 claim structure means every V1 token surrendered results in net supply reduction.

The Path to $1

The $1 price target is a supply math thesis. With 20% burned at launch (1,000,000,000 tokens) and continued burns from the treasury, the target trajectory is to reduce circulating supply toward 3,000,000,000 BEVO. At that supply level, $1 per token requires a market cap of $3,000,000,000 — consistent with established mid-cap BSC projects.

Launch supply after burn: ~4,000,000,000 BEVO

Target circulating supply: ~3,000,000,000 BEVO

Price target at target supply: $1.00 USD

Technical Overview

Smart Contract Architecture

BEVO V2 is deployed via Remix IDE using OpenZeppelin v5.0.0. The contract inherits three audited primitives:

- ERC20 — standard transfer, approve, and allowance logic
- ERC20Burnable — explicit holder-initiated burn via burn() and burnFrom()
- Ownable — ownership transfer and renouncement

There are no custom transfer hooks, no reflection mechanics, no fee-on-transfer logic, and no deliver function. The attack vector that destroyed V1 does not exist in this codebase.

PancakeSwap V3 Compatibility

PancakeSwap V3 uses a concentrated liquidity model incompatible with fee-on-transfer tokens. BEVO V2's zero-tax architecture is a prerequisite for V3 listing, not a compromise.

Note: V3 liquidity positions are represented as NFTs, not standard LP tokens. LP locking will use a V3-compatible locking service. Details will be published at deployment.

Security

The V2 contract will be submitted for independent audit prior to public launch. Audit firm and report will be published at: bevo.art/audit
